AMUSEMENT NOTES

"Miss Petticoats" Coming.

It would be difficult to find in this broad land anyone who has not seen the picture of "Miss Petticoats" in her clearing red cape either on the cover of the book or on the big posters on the billboards. She made a very fascinating little picture and held the attention of the reader so closely in the story that everyone wished to see her upon the stage and this is to announce that "Miss Petticoats" of book fame has now become the "Miss Petticoats" of play fame as well, and it is self-evident that what she comes for is to entertain the theatre-goers who are always looking for a novelty in the way of a play and will pack the Barre opera house to see the dramatization of a novel that had as a phenomenal sale which continued for a year after its publication. Its stay in this town is limited to one night.

The first class company who have been selected to play "Miss Petticoats" carry fine scenery to illustrate this beautiful New England story laid in a quaint seaport town, that helps to preserve the picturesque qualities and gives a salty twang to the atmosphere of the whole play that will be appreciated by all theatre patrons. Old Captain Stewart of the good ship "Harpoon" long since shorn of his glory, brings up "Miss Petticoats" on board of his houseboat tied to an ancient wharf of New Bedford amid most interesting and unique surroundings imaginable. The rural charm of the story has been well preserved and the dramatist has produced a rattling good homespun play of life in a seaport village—wholesome, breezy and full of amusing incidents that hold the interest of the audience until the curtain falls. The play is declared by both press and public to be brim full of meriment, refined wit and humorous stage business with a consistent, sane plot that is strong enough to bear all the whimsy as well as the emotional power that is strung upon it. Agnes Renier's progress from the cabin of the "Harpoon" to the brilliant position of Countess Fornay, is remarkable for its clever handling and development of character, so full of heart sentiment and strong emotional power. The scenes are well drawn from the book and depict the romantic wharves and old whalers as well as the ball room in Paris where the quartette of jolly sea-dogs dance a merry hornpipe for the edification of the guests of Countess Fornay as well as the audience, who are at all stages of the play most enthusiastic over the many merits of "Miss Petticoats."

"The Mayor of Laughland."

Royal Irish comedy finds its cleverest exponent in Tom Waters, who comes to the opera house next Monday night in a new musical skit called "The Mayor of Laughland." This young star has a host of friends locally and may be assured a warm reception for his new offering. The piece is described as a tabloid of fun in three pellets. Messrs. Nixon & Zimmerman are the managers this season and have provided Mr. Waters with a large and uniformly brilliant company including Al H. Lang, the German character delineator, Walter V. Milton, comedian of the peripatetic thespian type, William St. Willis, tenor and diminutive Major Casper—Nowak, brightest and best Lilliputian entertainers. The fairer members of the cast are May W. Waters, prima donna. Dorothy Webb Abbott, soprano, Elaine D. Gilbert, Belle Turner, May Binckley, Mable Grant, Marie Flood and Margaret LaPiere. A score or more of pretty chorus girls add color and action to every scene, and incidentally wear some very stunning costumes.

KILLS HIS WIFE TO STOP DIVORCE SUIT.

First Forces Poison on Her; Then Shoots Self and Drinks Carbolic Acid.

Columbus, O., Oct. 10.—Fred Butt, a moulder, aged 36 years, went to the home of his wife early yesterday, and forcing his way into the house, asked her if she was determined to push her suit for divorce. She replied "yes," and he seized her and forced carbolic acid into her mouth, burning the flesh about the lips.

Then he shot her dead and turned the weapon on himself and put a bullet in his body.

Falling to kill himself, he swallowed an ounce of carbolic acid. He is now dying in the hospital.

STEAMSHIP CO. MOVE.

French Line to Increase Its Canadian Service.

Montreal, Que., Oct. 10.—La Compagnie Generale Transatlantique has about decided to turn a number of its vessels from the New York to the St. Lawrence service, thus increasing the service between French and Canadian ports. The only direct service between France and Canada at the present time is conducted by the Allen line.

It is expected that the French line will place La Bretagne and La Gasconne, two of their older and smaller vessels on the Canadian route.

The French line is now looking for a subsidy from the Canadian government.

WHY KENTUCKY STRUCK.

Battleship Was Trying to Avoid Hitting Other Vessels.

Washington, Oct. 10.—The navy department in an official report learned yesterday morning that the cause of the grounding of the battleship Kentucky yesterday near Lambert's Point, while going to the Norfolk Navy Yard, was lack of seaway while trying to avoid vessels trailing across stream.

Other vessels have grounded at the same place and the last Congress, recognizing the danger, appropriated money for dredging to remove the bar.

The Kentucky got off the bar 8:40 o'clock last night, apparently uninjured.

His Dear Old Mother.

Prisoner Confesses to Sending Infernal Machines to Gov. Bucktel and in Hope of Rewards.

Denver, Col., Oct. 10.—Kemp V. Bigelow, arrested for sending infernal machines through the mails to Gov. Bucktel, David B. Moffat and C. H. Kountze, confessed yesterday that lack of money was the impelling motive of his acts.

He said he conceived the idea of sending the dynamite after warning the wealthy men whose lives he had saved. He detailed a trip to Eldorado, where he constructed the machines Sunday and mailed them. He also planted 61 sticks of dynamite in the rear of Edward Chase's residence and then notified the police that he overheard two men plotting to blow up the place and kill Bucktel, Moffat and Kountze.

Bigelow has been turned over to the federal authorities.

LOST STUDENT FOUND.

Carroll Disappeared From Wesleyan Academy Last May.

Wilmington, Mass., Oct. 10.—Walter Carroll of Rowe, the Wesleyan academy student who disappeared so mysteriously from Wilmington last May and for whom a search was conducted for weeks has been located in Rome, N. Y., through a letter to his friends in Rowe.

His sister found Carroll working in a shop in Rome under the name of Charles Bradley. She is returning to Rowe with her brother today.

Carroll's letter said that he could not remember how he came to be in Rome.

A MILLION IN COLLECTION.

Men's Thank Offering at The Episcopal Convention.

Richmond, Va., Oct. 10.—One of the largest collections ever taken up was gathered in at the men's thanks offering service of Holy Trinity church yesterday, when a great corporate communion of the men attending the convention was held. The offering amounted to $1,000,000, and huge basins of gold were necessary to hold the bank notes and gold. Thirty detectives and policemen were scattered through the church to guard the treasure. Seventy-seven dioceses contributed.

The occasion of the offering is the three hundredth anniversary of the American church and it was decided that the church men of America should thus express their thanksgiving for three centuries of primitive Christianity on this continent. J. P. Morgan of New York and George C. Thomas of Philadelphia, each gave $100,000 through their diocese and there were other gifts ranging from $50,000 down to $1,000, but the primal aim of the committee has been so far as possible in the time allotted to secure a contribution from every man and boy in the church as far as he was able to contribute.
